More Options for a Fast and Easy Recovery

Midwest Orthopaedics at Rush realizes that our patients may benefit from other options in addition to traditional physical therapy. We are pleased to offer PT Genie, an app that serves as an adjunct to in-person physical therapy, enhancing communication and feedback about therapy plans and goals. Through PT Genie, licensed athletic trainers and physical therapists guide your home exercise program virtually to assist you in determining what options best fit your needs and preferences on your road to recovery.
